so we are very clear, i made time again for you in a very busy day. i told you that a visa was not necessary, , again you start to tell me, but my parents said, . i said no they are wrong, you don't need. again you start to argue how is it possible, for the third time I tell you , it is possible , again you start to argue that your friends in lithuania cannot simply come and work, instead of saying . great. lets move forward again you spend you time telling me what you believe to be the facts about a subject you know very little. I am sorry, I wanted to help , and instead of moving forward , you want to tell me why things cannot be the way they are. because you know better -- I wish you luck.
