Hi Rich,
Not sure if you got my last email, but I will resend (it contained your network configurations).

We found issues with wiring and made adjustments (I wouldn't say it's fixed, but certainly patched) to help the longevity of your equipment.

Richard B. took us to the Gym to check out a pair of existing Klipsch speakers to determine if they would be suitable replacements for the speakers in the media room. They are not, they have a maximum power rating of 150 Watts. They would blow for sure. In addition all of the speakers should be timbre matched, but that's a moot point due to the power issue.

The system works well, however It can be improved upon by changing the front 3 speakers and wiring the existing subwoofers line level.

The specified XLR cables were back ordered until the end of January so.. In an effort to getting you up and running we used different cables (not the right length but they work).

I will schedule with you to allow us to get in to swap out the cables and dress the wiring (I'll call when I have them in hand).

I'm confident that this amplifier (wired as is) will hold up.

Let me know if there's anything we can assist with at any of his other properties.
Please keep us in mind for referrals as well, we currently service NY, CT, VT, NH, FL, St
Kitts and Harbor Island, the list is ever expanding.

Thanks and stay in touch.

Sincerely

Matt
