I understand rectangular shape instead of the "half moon" shape.

We intended to route this out about .25" into the vertical lid support and then paint it to "blend in".

Is this ok with you or explain the "i-Pod dock version"....

We can discuss when you call - the idea is to route out .25" which is more than adequate for your thumb to leverage the lid instead of adding the metal u track to the top of the lids.....
