i just connected with vendor who told me that they have 27 jobs and could not guarantee job to be complete before Christmas i asked them how long it took to receive equipment once ordered and was told approximately 2 weeks install will take 2 days and i asked if they could move us up on list and they would not commit to anything please advise

The marantz came back but as was told by the repair person it has lost the crestron programming so we have 3 paths

#1 hire a crestron guy to get it working again average cost $300 per hour and to me that's throwing good money after bad or #2 dump crestron for a solution like below (i like these guys alot ..)

#3 option is you and I redesign the whole thing I personally feel the rack design promotes even simple issues difficult to fix

I have many new outlooks on how we can design a better system thinking outside the box and it may be a project you would enjoy because in the end if anything goes wrong you and i could fix it without bringing in a third party option #2 makes the most sense option #3 is me dreaming a bit the imac set ups went well ... because i dont know your passwords some set up will be needed on boot ... i would like to be there that day to make that process smooth for you

thank you again for your continued support

scott
