

To: Jeffrey Epstein[jeevacation@gmail.com]
From: Felicia Taylor
Sent: Fri 9/20/2013 2:42:58 PM
Subject: Fwd: What I want/need from you.

Interesting - considering our conversation yesterday!

http://www.mckinsey.com/insights/business_technology/disruptive_technologies?cid=disruptive_tech-eml-alt-mip-mck-oth-1305

From: [REDACTED]
To: Brian David Hammer [REDACTED]
Sent: Thursday, September 19, 2013 9:29 AM
Subject: What I want/need from you.

Phase One:

Guidance, insight and support.

- Ideas are just that - they need to be fine tuned and presented in a cogent manner. I can do the research, writing and get the analysis. You can tell me what's necessary and keep me from going in the wrong direction.

Phase Two:

(May be simultaneous and certainly progressive)

Drafting a sales pitch and forming a Board of Directors:

- Ken Langone
- Michael Bloomberg
- Sydney Kohl
- Lynn de Rothschild
- Alan Goodman

- Outlining how online media may be better than traditional media and reach the target audience. (I have research on this).

WHY? Because intelligent, inspiring programming for women still doesn't exist. Whether it's starting a business to managing money or balancing life's challenges - this is about empowerment. And when it comes to ad dollars, women make the majority of household buying decisions.

Sent via BlackBerry from T-Mobile