Hi [REDACTED]

I just sent an update email out that was supposed to have gone out. I am free this afternoon any time after 2PM EST.

I'd like to talk to you about which sites you are posting to which directories, and what anchor texts you are selecting. Also want to understand if we have any "green" topics we can submit to press.

With the press submissions, I believe we need to seek approval from Jeffrey and Darren. Let's connect this afternoon about the next steps on the articles we have lined up for submission and what approval if any needs to occur.

Guest posting - where are you guest posting, and under what alias?

Sincerely

Tyler Shears

Hi Tyler,

Thanks for your voicemail. Can we talk tomorrow morning? I see that LinkedIn and Twitter are in 2nd and 3rd. That's terrific. Forbes should fall off soon and we'll be left with Huffington.

- I pushed new content and press through Yext.
- I'm posting the 9 websites on a list of key website directories such as Open Directory Project. I'll add this list to the database.
- working on new press-- can we send my last article to anyone you know at Huffington/Forbes etc?
- guest posting.

I have to also clean up the press links on the sites because some are dead links.
