Any chance you know Aaron's CEO, Ron Allen? Aaron's is who Brian's potential Sprint Cup team, MWR, are trying to get to sponsor him in a Cup car for next year. The owners of MWR just called BV about some new articles that were brought to their attention which are now online about him dating me and bringing up all the past articles on me. Its possible MWR might not be OK with him in the car, but they need to address this now with Aaron's to see where they stand in wanting to sponsor BV. It might be helpful if you or maybe someone we know, knows the CEO. Also, it might be helpful again to have them potentially talk to Kenn or Jack.
