Subject: Hello and update

Hi Jeffrey,

I hope all is well and that you are somewhere sunny and relaxing.

I have started to send my resume out to film companies here in New York, at least to producers that I have worked with.

I am still SO HOPING that I can work for you though. If you don't want me to work alongside a company like Reputation, I'd be glad to just improve and expand on the content that you already have and maybe get a tech individual who could do the optimizing and algorithmic work to deassociate you with the bad stuff. And the Wiki site needs to be tackled.

I do think that going with a group like Reputation will be the most efficient though. And I would provide all content and monitor progress. One can always stop if the results are not satisfactory.

In addition, I could go and interview prospective applicants for your foundation. I would love that. Or document anything you need.

In short, I need to work ASAP. What my husband is doing to me is terrible and my tenant is moving out so I will lose that income too over the next couple of months. I will go and check coats or hostess at a restaurant if I have to while looking for a better job.

I hope you don't think that I just used my husband for his sperm and then put him out to pasture once I had a baby. That's not who I am at all and that's not what happened. I was very engaged in my relationship with him, I was hopeful and I liked him so much. I considered aborting Sofia early on when I started to have reservations because I did not want to have a baby without him. But I held on to what I thought was good enough. After the baby was born, I did try my best to be kind and considerate to him. I slept on the floor in the dining room for over a year so that I could protect his sleep and I tried to get away with him as much as possible etc. My misjudgment while first dating, came primarily from lack of time together.

I am a considerate person Jeffrey and I honestly tried my best with him. Please know that.

If you can't help me, I will understand and I promise not to bother you.

Take care,
