Subject: E2

Arun has seen the E2 applications approved in 4 days - 3months. I see no official time limits posted online but it seems the average is 1-3months. The attorney says it is in their interest to approve quickly because while the application is pending the applicant is considered to be in status until a decision is made. Visa is usually issued for 2 years at a time and can be extended indefinitely. You scare me with the other people on E2 questions. If you are hoping to turn this into a group bimbo application, I want no part in it. I was under the impression you were helping me, not trying to bring random girls in. Let me know what it is you are thinking. Arun called me back to say it's OK to incorporate in USVI if the business is in the US and I as a beneficiary own 50%+. He said he will research it more..
