I missed your birthday (I was in Atlantic City playing (winning) blackjack). Woops. And I would have missed it for longer had I not just googled you b/c I had a crazy dream about you last night... though I can't remember a fucking thing about it at the moment except that I woke up in a good mood and you were wearing flannel in it.

Regardless, I'd like to take you to your kitchen for a muffin (b/c I doubt you'll go out to dinner with me) to celebrate your bday.

May I?

Can we have a visit soon?

I miss you.
