Subject: Grant Application

Dear JE Foundation,

I have delivered to you three copies of Urform, The Genesis of Complex Life.

I am making application for a grant to fund the further investigation of the premise of paper by three teams at scientific institutions if your choice, each consisting of one Ph.D as PI, and two post doc or grad student workers.

These teams will conduct six month investigations leading to the corroboration of the premises of the papers and practical applications of its teachings, for example mechanical effects in development, the growth of synthetic organs of living tissue, and other areas of investigation of choice, leading to publication in scientific journals and the publication of books.

Sincerely,
Synthetic Life Lab
