I asked this question but they didn't answer. There are some agencies in Moscow that consult applicants and help to prepare the docs. I will talk to my Mom today and ask her to find out about the tour and reservations, will also contact a few russians that I know got their first US tourist visas recently.

just talked to pony express (its 9am in moscow), the tour is not required. pony express do not consult on visas, they just provide courier services. My parents are planning to apply for the US tourist visas as well, i will ask them to look into the visa procedure tomorrow and give me all the details, so that Karina's Mother comes to the interview all prepared.
