Dear Jeffrey,

I have to move out with my baby. If you have a place for one month only, it would be a god send. I'm going to ask two other people as well who have apartments.

I can move back into my own apt that I own but I have to give 30 days notice. It's rented on a monthly basis.

Also, is there any chance I could go to work for you? I know I'm asking a lot. I am very smart and hard working. Grounded and committed. I could do anything--work for your website, interview scientists, candidates, whatever you need. I would love that. I can send you my cv. I was recently Director of Business Development (east coast) for [REDACTED]-they did the music for the [REDACTED] films, [REDACTED] etc. Was in charge of exec production. I gave it up when baby was born because I was traveling too much. Science though--specifically, metaphysics and creative writing are my two truest interests.

I promise not to pester you afer this email. I hope you are well.

All my best,

[REDACTED]
