To Jeffrey Epstein Science Foundation,

My name is Lawrence Plaschka, I am one of two engineers constituting a technology R&D startup called Pink Comet Limited.

We created a platform which gives you personally tailored news using a combination of machine-learning algorithms and a non-artificial component. We believe that personalized news will succeed as the primary news consumption method in the information age.

I would like to present my company and project to the Jeffrey Epstein Science Foundation because I think that your funding focus is aligned with my company's innovative research.

Find out about our project at www.xsoar.com and our company's homepage at www.pinkcomet.com.
