Subject: hanger door paint

Jeffrey,

I believe it should take two painters one long day (max two days) to paint the exterior only of hanger doors. The project does not require any prep since the base coat is white and no sanding or taping is required, except for color change in middle of hanger doors to match the existing exterior. We'll need to rent a high lift also. If there is supervision this project could be completed fast. There tends to be a lot of standing around and long breaks without supervision on remote projects in my opinion.

thx,
Larry
