

To: jeevacation@gmail.com[jeevacation@gmail.com];
[REDACTED]@yahoo.com[a [REDACTED]@yahoo.com]
From: Al seckel
Sent: Sat 12/11/2010 9:23:43 PM
Subject: Clarification on presentations on Epstein island trip

We are trying to avoid standard conference type presentations, and therefore do not wish attendees to just bring out their standard "wares."

Also avoid step through keynote or powerpoint presentations with bullet points, etc.

Use slide type visuals only when necessary.

We are more interested in promoting interesting discussions than a roundtable of talks. If you can say something in less than the full allotted time (used only if absolutely necessary!) you get tremendous brownie points. The person who speaks the least and opens it up for an interesting and dynamic conversation wins a prize.

if you have any questions, please do not hesitate to email me.

Best,
Al