Ian-

Catherine is a senior MD at JPM (in london) who has been tapped by Jes and me to cut across the wholesale lines of jpmorgan and help us to think about how we deal with everything from the brand to social media and the like. I was wondering if you had a half hour to spare with her so you could share with her all your thoughts on the digital space and where the world is moving and how JPMorgan should be involved. She is in London and if you are too, it would be easy to get together.

I will leave it to the two of you to connect.

Thanks much,

Mary
