

To: jeevacation@gmail.com[jeevacation@gmail.com]; Jeffrey Epstein[jeevacation@gmail.com]
From: Richard Saul Wurman
Sent: Tue 6/12/2012 7:49:01 PM
Subject: Re: Richard Saul Wurman/WWW Conference

ARE MY WORDS OK?

On Jun 12, 2012, at 3:43 PM, Jeffrey Epstein wrote:

great space

On Tue, Jun 12, 2012 at 12:33 PM, Richard Saul Wurman [REDACTED] wrote:

Jeffrey Epstein

The following link summarizes quite well the upcoming WWW Conference: The WWW Conference

What is implied but not addressed is a description of the initiation of the conversations and content.

- The current list of individuals listed at this link WWW Participants will form the basis of approximately 30 pairs who will engage with each other in improvised conversation.
- The conversations will be initiated by one of 30 premises that I shall generate. Two examples:
 - How do you describe the difference between the generalization and personalization of products and services in the development of pharmaceuticals, cell phones and cars and the trends of such filters?
We know personalized medication is possible though perhaps a challenge economically. We understand that the generalization of dosage or multiple versions of a product is a way a company generates income. We expect that the front seat of our car can be personally adjusted hundreds of ways.
 - Many people, for example, molecular biologists and astrophysicists, deal in things they can't see: the invisible. Do these two people have commonalities in inquiry?
- What will not enter into the initiation of conversation is confrontation, religion or political agenda. It will embrace the emergence of new patterns, both economic and creative.
- The conversations will range from 10-50 minutes depending on intensity and what I sense in the interest level of myself and the audience.

Attached are pictures of the auditorium which seats 300. One half of the seats will be taken up by the participants, plus the guest that each one is invited to bring. Some of the remaining seats will be sold.

During the breaks, of which there will be four in addition to two lunches, I plan to offer optional conversation in a telepresence room. These conversations will be with people of the same caliber as the participants, such as Zhang Yimou, who designed the opening and closing ceremonies of the 2008 Summer Olympics, or an individual who cannot attend but wishes to have a conversation with those who are on site.

I will ensure that this is not a bully pulpit, nor promotion of a book or product. It will be an improvised engagement in an active idea.

Richard Saul Wurman

RICHARD SAUL WURMAN

(for texting only)

www.thewwwconference.com

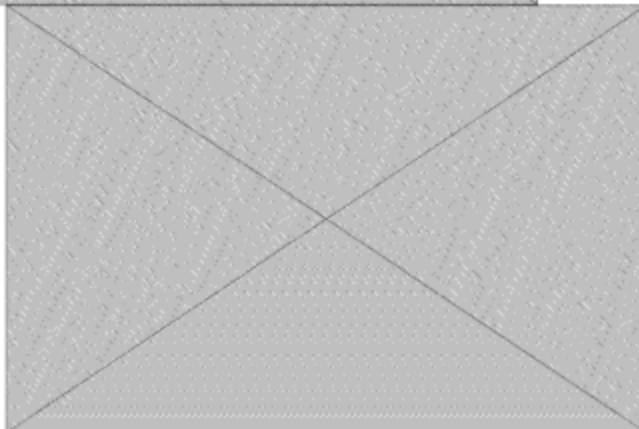

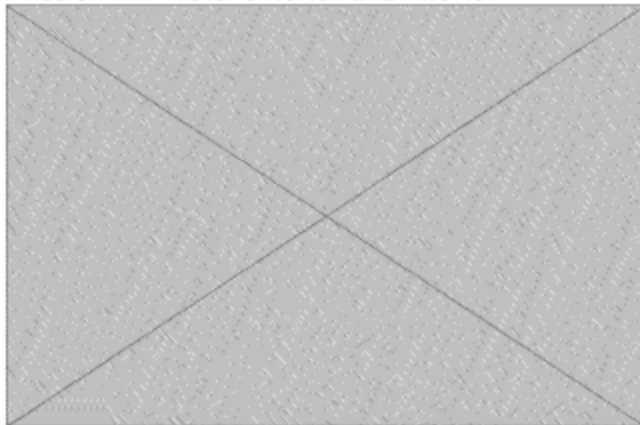

www.192021.org

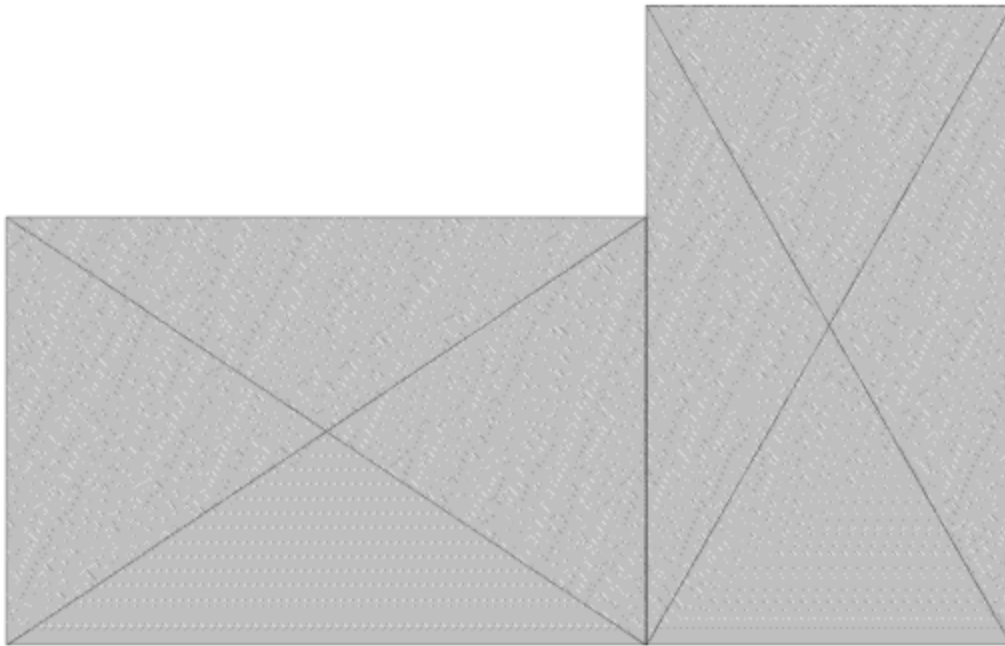

Pictured below:

ESRI auditorium

ESRI dining area

Mission Inn Hotel exterior and interior

--

The information contained in this communication is confidential, may be attorney-client privileged, may constitute inside information, and is intended only for the use of the addressee. It is the property of Jeffrey Epstein

Unauthorized use, disclosure or copying of this communication or any part thereof is strictly prohibited and may be unlawful. If you have received this communication in error, please notify us immediately by return e-mail or by e-mail to jeevacation@gmail.com, and destroy this communication and all copies thereof, including all attachments. copyright -all rights reserved

Richard Saul Wurman

cell text preferable
fax

www.thewwwconference.com
www.192021.org