Meetings/Briefings

I had no meetings or briefings during the past week.

Phone calls & E-mails

I have handled numerous phone calls and e-mails this past week which were generally related to providing information to Members, staff and candidates about FD reporting requirements, due dates, etc.

Significant Issues

Rep. Rangel's attorney sent me draft amendments to his FDs for calendar years 1998 through 2007, as well as his draft 2008 FD, for pre-screening. In the course of my review, I found 8-10 small errors that require correction/clarification. Overall, however, the drafts appear in good shape. I have also reviewed the delinquent FDs of Rep. Rangel's staffer Jim Capel. They also appear to be in good order. Mr. Capel has now filed all delinquent FDs and paid late filing fees associated with each report.

Action Items

I am meeting with the chief of staff for Rep. Wasserman-Shultz Friday morning (7/31) to discuss the Member's draft 2008 FD.

We need to determine how we are going to respond to Rep. Rangel's request for pre-screening of draft amendments and annual FD in light of the pending investigation which encompasses his 2006-07 FDs.

We continued to review Member FDs. To date, 297 Member FDs have been approved. There are 21 FDs outstanding due to extensions, 41 are pending amendments, and the remaining FDs have been through the first review and have been found to contain errors. We continue to contact these Members to solicit clarifying information and/or amendments to their FDs. All Member FDs are currently accounted for, i.e., all Members who have not yet filed FDs have been granted extensions and are within their timeframes.

Phone calls & E-mails

Retrieved about 25 final files for Detailee review

Prepared files & filed about 50 CC files for the 2010 primaries / elections

Reviewed about 20 CC files for the 2010 primaries / elections

Answered about 5 calls from CCs regarding reporting requirements

Suggestions

- Consider establishing and funding an 18 month or 2 year formal training program (e.g., Administrative Staff) to improve workforce performance or as part of an overall professional development program related to the mission and strategic objectives/goals of the Committee. This should be considered to build upon the skills and strengths of the staff and implemented to maintain a talented, diverse, and versatile workforce.
- Consider succession planning going forward by ensuring that all key positions and/or tasks have updated policies and procedures on hand.

Action Items

- Discuss and determine the handling of remaining archive files (about 30 boxes) stored at the Ford House office building that were initially planned to be completed by December 2009.

Meetings/Briefings

Wednesday, July 29 – I met with Donald to transfer the Gary Miller investigative file and provide the background of the investigation to date. I plan to remain available to answer questions as needed as Donald moves forward with that investigation.

Phone Calls & E-mails

2008 & 2009 Training compliance – I revised the email from Blake to be sent to all chiefs of staff and ethics compliance officers and coordinated with Paulicia to have the email sent out this week. Also, I've been working with Blake to coordinate monthly closed ethics training sessions for employees who did not comply with the 2008 ethics training requirement to remedy that missed training.

Significant Issues

Legal Expense Trusts – This week I reviewed the 2009 second quarter report filed by Rep. Jim McDermott and there were no problems or issues detected. Rep. McDermott also filed amendments to his 2008 first and second quarter reports to add and revise information for certain donors whose multiple donations were not properly aggregated in the original reports last year. These amendments were the result of an audit by the LET trustee after I contacted Rep. McDermott's staff to point out inconsistencies in the reporting of LET donations between Rep. McDermott's 2008 Financial Disclosure Statement and his 2008 LET reports.

Pink Sheet–I made revisions to the jointly – sponsored constituent service event pink sheet based on Blake's edits and returned it to him for further review.

Phone Calls – (1) I received numerous calls on Tuesday, July 28, from Mark Johnson in Rep. Bruce Braley's office. His questions were all centered around a hypothetical scenario where a Member might send out an email to individuals outside of the district urging them to contact their Member and tell the Member to vote "no" on the particular amendment. I told him such an email would not be permissible under our Committee's prohibition on Members conducting and assisting outside lobbying of Congress, and that such an email would not probably also violate Franking regulations. The numerous calls included push-back from Mark with him arguing that "just an email" (albeit from the house.gov account) was not using official House resources and was not subject to the Franking regulations. I repeatedly told him to check with Franking before sending any such emails. Mark also asked me about the procedure for obtaining a Committee AO and implied that they might write in for further guidance. Based on conversations with Carol and Blake, it appears that the emails were already sent out and other Members in the Iowa delegation were the targets of the lobbying effort.

(2) On Wednesday, July 29, I spoke with Jennice, Chief of Staff to Rep. Gutierrez, about a weekly radio show that Rep. Gutierrez would like to start co-hosting in his district. She stated that ClearChannel had suggested the idea that Rep. Gutierrez could co-host a show every Sunday on a local station in his district. Jennice knew that Rep. Gutierrez could not be paid for such a show, but wanted to know if there was anything else she should ask as they are about to have a close-to-final meeting with ClearChannel so they can start the show during August recess. As summarized in a lengthier email to Blake, I advised her that there were a number of restrictions on a Member hosting a radio show, including that no official House resources (including staff) be used and that no promotion of House events or district office services could be done by the Member during the show. She was generally surprised at those restrictions. I told her that the Member should write in for an AO based on the specific proposal from him and ClearChannel to receive proper guidance on the restrictions that would apply. Meetings/Briefings

- July 29th: Permitted Jim Capel to review his previous testimony before the Rangel Subcommittee.
- July 30th: Conducted formal interview.
- July 30th: Rangel Subcommittee Meeting

Phone Calls & E-mails

- Spoke and sent an email to Steven Rangel regarding a question he had about a question that was asked to him by one of the Subcommittee Members. At this time, Steven Rangel does not wish to clarify his statement.
- Spoke and sent an email to Abdul Henderson, Rep. Diane Watson's CoS, regarding the allegations concerning former CoS, Richard Butcher.

Significant Issues

- Prepared talking points for Rep. Bonner to speak with Rep. Bill Posey.
- Sent initial memo and recommendations to the Chair and Ranking Member. Contacted Richard Butcher to set up an informal interview. Mr. Butcher would not agree to informal interview at this time, instead he took my contact information. I will follow-up with a letter. He will be removed from the office payroll as of August 1, 2009.

Action Items

- Prepare for Rep. Rangel's interview.
- Draft report during August recess.
- Prepare to travel to New York Housing Court.
- Continue informal fact gathering regarding the allegations involving Rep. Sanford Bishop.

A & E calls of note:

-Eric from Loeb'sack's office called to see if there was a rules violation for a Member to send emails to individuals outside of his district asking theme recipient to contact his/her own Member to ask for a certain vote on a pending bill (Loeb'sack had received one of these calls). I told him it sounded like it might violate both the Franking rules and the rule that Members should not be providing guidance on how to lobby Congress. A couple of days later, Peg got a call from Braley's office, which apparently had made the calls. Her advice was consistent with mine, but apparently some of the Members who received the resulting calls are not pleased.

-With Susan, made proposed edits to the Traveler & Trip Sponsor forms, as part of the Committee's overall look at revising the travel process. (Changes included adding more explicit § 1001 certification).

- Reviewed one FGDA gift form from the Speaker.

Action Items

- 2 pink sheets to be drafted: (1) revised version of one on contacting private parties on behalf of constituents; (2) implications of legal same-sex marriages under gift rules. Will be researching new White House guidance regarding federal employees, as well as pre-existing CRS report.

- Draft pink sheet or others guidance on international travel funded by a private foundation? Notify travelers about potential tax consequences of private foundation trips that were taken in the past and approved by the Committee?

July 24 phone call with Betsy for Cong Kilpatrick -- Is Member permitted to use her MRA to arrange flights to district with a stopover in another Member's district: staff-level advice is that the use of the MRA is within the jurisdiction of the House Administration Committee; therefore, it should be contacted about the MRA matter.

July 27 phone call with Eric for Cong Loeb sack -- Is Member permitted to use the MRA/Frank to send mailings outside of district: staff-level advice is that the use of the MRA is within the jurisdiction of the House Administration Committee and the use of the Frank is within the jurisdiction of the Franking Commission; therefore, those entities should be contacted about MRA and Franking matters.

July 27 phone call with Tory Jessup for Cong Watt -- Is Member permitted to accept offer of free attendance from the National Black Theater to its National Black Theater Festival, at which Cong Watt has been asked to speak: staff-level advice was to discuss the requirements for the both the charity fundraising event exception and the widely attended event exception to the House gift rule.

July 28 phone call with Michael for Cong John Lewis -- Is Member permitted to accept trip under MECEA from Norwegian Government that would involve only Cong Lewis: staff-level advice is that MECEA travel requirements and restrictions are within the jurisdiction of the State Department; therefore, referred him to Erik N. Anderson; Chief, Exchange Coordination; U.S. Department of State at 202-453-8836.

July 28 phone call with Karen for Cong Titus -- Is Member permitted to use her MRA to pay for travel back to her district when the trip ends with a campaign fundraiser: staff-level advice is that the use of the MRA is within the jurisdiction of the House Administration Committee; therefore, it should be contacted about the MRA matter.

July 28 phone call with Kelly for Cong Wu -- Is Member permitted to set-up a temporary PayPal account solely for purpose of collecting payments from participants for cost of lunch at Member-sponsored conference in district, at which a lunch session is planned: staff-level, advice is that pages 343 to 344 of House Ethics Manual provides for the establishment of a non-interest bearing checking account for such a purpose. Thus, under that guidance the set-up of a PayPal account appears to also be permitted. However, also suggested that since House resources will be used to set-up and main such a temporary PayPal account, Kelly should also contact the House Administration Committee.

July 28 phone call with Cathleen for Cong Himes -- Is Member permitted to use official House stationery for a letter of support for a local candidate: staff-level, advice is "No." Referred her to page 125, of the House Ethics Manual (specifically noted Example 1), whereby Member must use personal stationary or campaign stationery for such candidate support letters and Member is prohibited from using any House resources, including the Frank, for such letters.

July 29 phone call with Mary for Cong Chris Smith -- Is Member permitted to have his campaign refer to congressional office requests about the Member's vote on "cap and trade" to the congressional office if the campaign office received the request along with a campaign contribution: staff-level advice is "Yes." Referred her to guidance on page Pete Sessions — the chief of the Republicans' campaign arm in the House — says on his website that earmarks have become “a symbol of a broken Washington to the American people.” Yet in 2008, Sessions himself steered a $1.6 million earmark for dirigible research to an Illinois company whose president acknowledges having no experience in government contracting, let alone in building blimps.

House Seems To Be Set on Pork-Padded Defense Bill – (Washington Post) The Democratic-controlled House is poised to give the Pentagon dozens of new ships, planes, helicopters and armored vehicles that Defense Secretary Robert M. Gates says the military does not need to fund next year, acting in many cases in response to defense industry pressures and campaign contributions under an approach he has decried as "business as usual" and vowed to help end.

ABA panel to focus on corruption problem – (Chicago Tribune) The American Bar Association is opening its annual meeting in Chicago and one of the first panels is focusing on a problem that's plagued not only Chicago but the rest of Illinois as well -- corruption in government. [Abner Mikva is on the panel.]

Bloggers file ethics complaint against Bachmann – (Minneapolis Post) Several Minnesota bloggers have filed an ethics complaint with the House Ethics Office requesting an investigation into whether Rep. Michele Bachmann, R-Minn., has violated House franking rules regarding email usage.

Towns Mulls Countrywide Probe – (The Hill) The chairman of the House Committee on Oversight and Government Reform is considering an investigation into Countrywide Financial's questionable lending policies. Rep. Edolphus Towns (D-N.Y.) said he'll make an announcement by the end of the week on the possible probe.

Ethics Will Tinker With Travel Rules – (Roll Call) The House ethics committee plans to tweak the chamber's travel rules to cut down on paperwork two years after the House effectively banned lobbyist-sponsored junkets with stringent restrictions on privately sponsored trips.

Rep. Richardson's Sacramento home is focus of House ethics probe – (Los Angeles Times) The Office of Congressional Ethics has interviewed an investor who bought the house in foreclosure last year, as well as neighbors. The city declared the structure a public nuisance. (also Sacramento Bee)

Are Members' Statements to Ethics Committees Protected? – (Roll Call) Q: I am a staffer for a Member of the House, and we suspect that the ethics committee may want to interview him regarding an ongoing investigation. If the committee does ask to interview our Member, he would really like to cooperate, as he is a strong supporter of its role and we know that he has done nothing wrong. However, our concern is that we would not want to risk that anything he says might be used against him in some other proceeding outside the House. Are communications to the ethics committee protected?

Trip to Jackson's funeral spurs funding questions – (The Hill) Rep. Sheila Jackson Lee's (D-Texas) cross-country trip to Los Angeles for Michael Jackson's funeral has come under scrutiny.

Bill Shows Earmarks Are Alive and Well – (Wall Street Journal) A House panel approved a big Pentagon spending bill this week that included nearly 150 items tucked in by lawmakers on behalf of companies and other entities whose employees donated to their campaigns.

Murtha Taking Devil May Care Attitude To Corruption Probes – (TPMuckraker) The Feds may be circling uncomfortably close to Rep. John Murtha as they probe kickbacks to defense contractors and possible earmarks-for-campaign-cash deals. But the veteran Democratic power-broker doesn't seem to be sweating it. In fact, he's acting as defiant as ever.

Lobbyists still buy access – (Leaf-Chronicle of Clarksville, TN) Lobbyists in Washington can get face time with those who write the nation's laws in a way that most Americans may not even be aware. They can make contributions to non-profits connected with members of Congress.

House Ethics Panel Has Opened 15 Cases in 2009 – (CQ Weekly) see attached PDF

Visclosky Asks to Use Campaign Funds for Staffers' Legal Costs – (Chesterton [IN] Tribune) U.S. Rep. Pete Visclosky, D-1st, has already secured the approval of the Federal Election Commission (FEC) to use campaign funds to pay legal fees and expenses incurred in an ongoing federal investigation reportedly of The PMA Group, a defunct lobbying firm whose associates and clients have donated hundreds of thousands of dollars to Visclosky's campaign committees.

Morality and Charlie Rangel's Taxes – (Wall Street Journal Editorial) Ever notice that those who endorse high taxes and those who actually pay them aren't the same people? Consider the curious case of Ways and Means Chairman Charlie Rangel, who is leading the charge for a new 5.4-percentage point income tax surcharge and recently called it "the moral thing to do." About his own tax liability he seems less, well, fervent.

Private lives of public officials show they are all too human – (Bloomington Herald-Times) As happens every so often, we have recently been through a spate of embarrassing reports about the lives of prominent public officials. [see attached PDF]

Whither Ways And Means? – (National Journal) "It was the best of times, it was the worst of times" -- the famous opening line of Charles Dickens's A Tale of Two Cities -- has become an apt metaphor for life at 1100 Longworth, the home of the House Ways and Means Committee. [Article includes a few references to the Standards Committee.]

Inside Washington (see section called "High and Inside") – (National Journal) Did you know? It's generally legal for members of Congress and their aides to profit from insider information gleaned during the course of their jobs. The watchdog group Public Citizen is promoting a bill just reintroduced by Reps. Brian Baird, D-Wash., Louise Slaughter, D-N.Y., and Tim Walz, D-Minn., that would prohibit anyone on the Hill from using privileged information obtained through work for personal financial gain. Craig Holman, a government-affairs lobbyist for Public Citizen, thinks that the temptation could grow, especially among congressional staffers. "With the federal government moving in to become, actually, a controlling partner in many of the financial services companies and firms, it just makes it the right opportunity for pushing this bill," Holman says. "It's very likely that we're going to hear various scandals happening, because of this very close relationship between Wall Street and the federal government." A 2004 study by Georgia State University found that senators' investment returns were 25 percent higher on average than those of most investors. --Gregg Sangillo
