The Invocation to Inanna

Reputedly from the Ancient Guardian Ceremonies & adapted by Michael Freedman

Note by Jean de Cabalis

Essaier XXXIV

Note: This version of the Invocation to Anahita or Ishtar is used within the Mother Goddess ceremony of the Guardians of Grace and Blessing. According to our legends, Jesus had an especial connection into the Persian mysteries of the Mother Goddess - though both his Mother and also his wife. Also suggestive within the Gospels, are the legendary three Magi (Persian priests of Ishtar) whom came to Jesus' birth. Mary came from the town of Taricheae hence her name Mary of Magdala another name for Taricheae.

It was suggested to me by the former Senior Guardian Michael Freedman, that Mary Magdalene was an initiate of the Ishtar Mother Mysteries and this is why the Guardians, who originated in Southern France, maintain the Mother Mysteries within our ancient ceremonies. Reportedly Mary and Jesus become lovers, married through the Sacred Marriage rites of Ishtar and that Mary became pregnant with a child before the crucifixion - this is represented by the Empress in the Tarot. Mary Magdalene was an initiate of Jesus' inner mystery cycle and a keeper of the Holy Grail. After Jesus' crucifixion Mary Magdalene went to Europe bearing Jesus' child. In the Guardian tradition we associate Mary back to the Ancient Mother Goddess, known as Ishtar, Inanna and Anahita in various traditions.
