the Spelling of the Name of Adonai by the Ritual of the Pyramid being the Form of Initiation to the Grade of Neophyte in the M _____ of I _____ (Ritual issued to appointed Officers, who must pass the test of efficiency.)

O.M. a 7^o = 4th of the G. O. having been permitted on the 9th October 1906 to perceive the Vision of I A Ω did duly write out for the third time this ritual following, it having been in its crude form of assistance to him in the obtaining of the chrism aforesaid.

The skeleton of the ritual was laid down (adapted from the 0^o = 0^o of G. O. D.) by G.H. Fra. D.D.S. on nox preceding, written out in sketch by G.H. Fra. O.M. on 30th Sept, and revised by him on 7th Oct. and other dates. The final draft was submitted by O.M. to D.D.S.; and together did they consult, making slight alterations. This present printed ritual has received the Imprimatur of P.N. V.V.V.V.V. 8^o = 3^o Magister Templi on nox 1908.

Of the Temple.

The Temple is accurately described and drawn to scale in Ritual. T

Of the Chapter of Adepts.

The complete form of the O. . . is laid down in the Ritual. α

Of the Preparation of any Candidate.

The forms with which all Candidates must comply, and the tests which they must pass, are laid down in Rituals T and Re Form of Probationers.

Of the Induction of the approved Candidate.

Days I - III are spent by him in silence and solitude in the Chamber of Purifications.

Day IV At midnight previous is handed in stealthily the First Examination: Who art thou? upon the proper form. With this are writing materials and instruction to meditate upon the question and reply to it.

Day V Parallel is the Second Examination: ~~What art thou? Whither goest thou? What dost thou?~~

Day VI Parallel is the Third Examination: ~~What art thou?~~ What art thou? His answers are filed for reference.

With all this the door of his room is sealed, though unlocked. In his paper of instructions it shall be written that he may leave at any time, but, if so, cannot return; also that if he does not leave, he will reach a point from which there is no turning back.

Day VII At the midnight previous the Hegemon enters C's cell, and prepares him finally, as laid down in the ritual B (Instructions to Officers of the M)

The Hegemon then leaves him to wait without the Veil of the Outer, and himself enters the Temple.

Of the Stations, Robes and Insignia of the Officers

This is fully dealt with in Ritual X .

Of the Building of the Great Pyramid.

The Officers, Hieret~~ts~~s and Hegemon, wait for some time in silence. When Hs feels that the right moment has arrived, he knocks ? goes to altar, and faces West.

Hg. ? and joins him facing East.

Hs. The Speech in the Silence.

Hg.	Twisted is the Serpent of Night.
Hs. Hg.	Straight is the Wand.
Hs.	It is light.
Hg.	It is dark.
Hs. Hg.	It is naught to the Wand.

(Hg. goes to Altar facing East and stands in + sign. Hs. facing him cuts a + with his sword or burin on Hg's breast)

Hs.

The Lustral Water!

(He takes oil from the altar, and rubs it into the wound.)

The Informing Fire!

7 The Path of the Wise. The Binding-On of the Girdle of the Great Goddess!

(Hg. goes back to his station in S. W. and thence performs the I. S. D., while Hs. at altar silently invokes as he may know how.)
(They return to their stations).

Hg.

I adore the Lord of the Word. (sign towards Hs.)

Hs.

I adore the Lord of the Silence. (sign towards Hg.)

Hs. Hg.

We adore the Lord. (Both signs towards Altar)

(M M. pronounced as taught.)

Path their power is infinite.

(The officers retire within K. C. and close the Veil of the Inner before C. reaches it. C. passes within.)

Of the Ceremony of the Threshold.Hs bars, clutching C's throat.

Hg assists to force him backward and render him powerless. They pin him to the ground.)

Hs.

(Very loud)

Son of Man! unworthy of the G--- of E--- !

(Hg. cuts + on his breast below his tent just above wrist)Hg.

The Lustral Water! (rubs in oil)

The Informing Fire!

Hs.

(Softly)

Son of Man! wherefore hast thou come with all these pains to demand admission to the G. of E.?(He answers unprompted. The answer noted.) Byto be killed ~~this time C. should be well resolved into his elements. Above all is a rational answer to be deprecated. In bad cases the ceremony may have to be stopped. They loose C. who yet lies supine.~~Hg.My heart! my mother! my heart! my mother! my heart of existence upon earth! May none stand up to oppose me in judgment; nor opposition in the house of Heaven!Homage to Thee, O heart of HVA, homage to Thee, O Thou who dwellest above the shrine, exalted with thy sceptre and garland! Speak fair words for ----- (C's motto) make him to prosper in the place of judgment, at the place of the weighing of his heart, by the gloomy marshes of the abyss.

For though I be joined to the earth, I am in the mighty innermost part of heaven. Therefore let me not die as a dog; but let me be a mighty hero therein for ever and ever!

Of the Ceremony of the King's Chamber.

(C. is lifted and brought to altar, West side. He kneels, facing East, Hg. holding up his hands in the prescribed manner.

Hs. (Beyond altar, facing West - Softly)
I see this man. He is empty and a fool.

Hg. He is under the Shadow of the Wings.

Hs. He is a liar and a thief.

Hg. (Replies as above throughout) both officers with increasing vehemence, as if their contest became ever more acute.)

Hs. He is fickle and untrusty.
He is unchaste and idle.
He is quarrelsome and domineering.
He is stubborn and stupid.
He is cruel and untrusty.

He is vain and frivolous.
 He is weak and cowardly.
 He is lascivious and unthrifty.
 He is a glutton and a drunkard.
 He is unjust and unbalanced.
 He is changeable and selfish.
 He is vindictive and capricious.
 He is intemperate and vacillating.
 He is blind and sensual.
 He is angry and violent.
 He is a spendthrift and a miser.
 He is obscure and devious.
 He is dull and ungenerous.
 He is not marked with the Flame.
 He is a traitor and an enemy from the darkness of the Outer. I demand the penalty of death.

(Strikes him on nape of neck with sword).

Hg.

(Loudly)

He is under the Shadow of the Wings!

(He raises C. forcibly. Ready to lead C., still holding both hands, but low).

The Path of the Wise! The Binding-On of the Girdle of the Great Goddess!

(Leads C. round to N. W. where Hs bars, clutching

a long silence

*Heavenly hold

C's throat and crying: -)

Hg.

Son of Man! Unworthy of the G. of E.

(Hg. cuts and oils as before, crying -)

The Lustral Water!

The Informing Fire!

(Hg. bars in N.)

Hg.

Son of Man! Tell me my Name!

(C. unhooded beholds Hg., and answers unprompted.

The answer noted.)

Soul-Mastering Terror is my Name! I am the Lord of the Gods and the ruler of Hell! Welcome to my domain! (A pause.)

Fear not! Thou hast known me. Pass thou on!

(He descends and leads C., re-hooded, to S.E. Hg.

right hand bars. Hg. admits. They go to S. Hg. bars)

Hg.

Son of Man! Tell me my Name!

(As before C. answers).

Soul-devouring Sorrow is my Name! I am the Mother of the Gods and the Ruler of Empyrean Heaven. Welcome to my domain! (A pause)

Stay not! Turn not! Thou hast known me! Pass thou on!

to E. E.
 (He descends and leads C. to N. E. Hs. bars and Hg. admits. [In E. ~~a far-away voice, very soft~~ (and here Hs. must assume the dignity of @-))]

Hs.

Son of Man! Tell me my Name!

(C. is shown the (apparently empty) throne of Hermes.

Hs. has descended to support him on the other side. He answers, preferably by silence.

In silence they pass on, round and to S. W., where again they bar and admit, both officers acting in both functions. Hg. leaves C. and goes to W. whence he cries in a stern terrible voice [as ~~A-~~, judge of the dead] -

to E. E.
Hg.

Son of Man! tell me my Name!

(C. is unhooded, and sees himself in Throne of West, Hg. having descended thence.

Answers)

Look not upon the Visible Image of the Soul of Nature, for her name is Fatality. Thou hast known me.
 Pass thou on!

(He goes to altar; his hands are raised to grasp the right hands of the adepti:

C. at W. of altar; Hs. at N.E; Hg. at S. E.)

Hs. The Begetting of the Silence.

Hg. The bringing Forth of the Darkness.

Hs. The Formulation of the Shroud.

Hg. The Inmost Light.

Hs. The Sign of Attack; the Eating-up of the strong Lions; the Fear upon the Dwellers of Earth; the Radiant Force of the Lord.

Hg. The Sign of Defence: the Closing of the Mouths of the Crocodiles: the Fear upon the Dwellers of Water;
the Radiant Peace of the Lord.

(They loose C's hands).

Hs.

Hg. Son of Man! arise and follow me!

(C. is on the (apparent) contrary made to lie down,
in the position of the 12th Key of the Rota, upon the altar. ^{Follow Me} They touch with the weapons in silence the left foot, the Muladhara chakra,
the right knee, the right foot, the left knee,
the Muladhara chakra, the right elbow, the left elbow, the Svadisthana chakra, the heart, the throat, the forehead, the Muladhara chakra.)

Of the Sealing of the Great Pyramid.

(Save for the direction of the 2nd dance, and the words "The Binding-On" which are changed to

"The Unbinding", the ritual proceeds as in the 'Building' to the word M M. Hs. and Hg. then go to C. and lead him to altar, where they again form the descending triangle.)

Hs.

For He that is found perfect hath said:

These are the elements of my body, tried as pure gold in the furnace.

Hg.

For I am He that is clothed with the body of flesh.

I am the Spirit of the Eternal,

I am the Lord of Life, triumphant over death; he that partaketh with me shall arise with me.

I am the Manifestor of the Invisible; I am the Reconciler, the Perfector; without ME the Universe is not. (Oils ϕ on C's brow and shews C. in silence to anoint Hs's brow.)
