Seeing the Point

Seeing the Point

By Michael Freedman

This is a brief meditation exercise that is based upon the Mysteries of Numbers. It is intended to take you to the very origin of existence, when there was only a single Point. Scientists call it the Monobloc, and call its expansion to our present cosmos the Big Bang.

One, Two, Three and Four - These are the Unseen Numbers. No-one has ever seen them. Here are tile reasons why:

The Point exists, but in no dimension: No length, no breadth, no depth and no duration.

You have only ever seen a picture of a Point. You have never seen a Point. But Points are One and belong to the First dimension. Tile Point expresses Infinite Potential.

The Line exists in One dimension: Only Length, no breadth, no depth, no duration.

You have only ever seen a picture of a Point or Line. You have never seen a Line.

The Line joins Two Points, so it belongs to the Second Dimension. A Line expresses Infinite Force.

The First Form is the Triangle. Like every other Form, it has only Two Dimensions. Length and Breadth; but no Depth and no Duration. You have only ever seen a picture of a Form. No-one has ever seen a Form. A Form needs at least Three Points to define it.

So Forms belong to the Third Dimension. Forms contain the Forces to control and channel them.

The First Solid is the Pyramid. Like every other Solid, it has Three Dimensions, Length and Breadth and Depth, but no Duration. All that has so far happened has happened in no time at all.

The simplest Solid needs Four Points to define it. It is a Tetrahedron, a four-sided Triangle-Pyramid. Solids are of the number Four. You have only ever seen a picture of a Solid, for it needs a Fourth Dimension to be realised.

Give me Time to explain. Time is powerful; Time endures; Time said to be is the Fourth Dimension yet there is another fourth dimension and it is that which cannot be shown here, but directly cuts through and exists also another world beyond our three dimensions.

Yet, how can you see a Solid? Any of the Five perfect Solids? Or the infinity of other solid Forms? Even though each and everyone has three dimensions, Length, Breadth, Depth and also what is known as the fourth Time or Duration. The other fourth is that aspect of the solid we cannot see, yet it exists manifest in another world.

You need a Fifth Dimension to see a Solid. You yourself stand in the Fifth Dimension. Consciousness to view the other Four, is the Fifth Dimension.

Can you see the point now! The Point is Air; the Line is Fire; the Form is Water; and Solid is Earth. Consciousness is the Spirit that perceives them all.

How to do Guided Meditation

1. Sit comfortably in the Pharaoh position.
2. The Guided Meditation should be on your lap, where you can easily refer to it.
3. Before you start, make an Intention or Affirmation that will sum up your feelings about the Image. If you wish, ask the Gods and Goddesses for their help.
4. Sit quietly with eyes closed for five minutes or so. Allow your mind to drift freely. Do not concentrate or use dangerous techniques that require you to 'try to empty your mind'.
5. Open your eyes and look at any Image or Symbol [e.g. a Number] for a minute or so;
6. Read right through the Guided Meditation, then look at the Image or Symbol again.
7. Let your mind float as you look at the image, gently returning your attention to the image whenever you notice it has left it. Do not concentrate or use too much effort.
8. Repeat Steps 4 through 7 as often as you wish.
9. When you are ready to finish, close your eyes and sit quietly for a few minutes, without trying to do anything in particular.
10. Before you get up and go, make an Intention or Affirmation that will sum up your feelings about the Image. If you wish, thank the gods and goddesses for their help.
