About the author

The author did not learn telekinesis from the reading of a document, nor was the author taught telekinesis. Literally how the author learned telekinesis is not important to discuss. The reason is that you may not be able to learn telekinesis from the same source of practice. Nevertheless, the author learned telekinesis instantly and accidentally.

The author continued to carefully analyze all combinations of his accidentally obtained telekinesis knowledge towards the outcome of object motion. He then searched the Internet at message forums and read small telekinesis documents. Yet, all telekinesis information that he read was not in reference to the information he obtained from this telekinesis practice. Instead, the author found large amount of telekinesis discrepancies.

The author is an analytical thinker. Therefore, he needed to literally understand everything about how the mental plane and physical plane work together and in reference to telekinesis. Only then, could he understand how telekinesis could be possible at his level of comprehension.

He studied the concept of force, magnetic energy and the composition of an atom and found numerous amounts of discrepancies in each of them.

The author was searching in the wrong direction. Instead of searching for more telekinesis information, he searched the characteristics of force itself.

The author then divided telekinesis into three areas of knowledge. The three fundamentals of telekinesis is literally your foundation. Once the three fundamentals are learned and then utilized, you may Unleash Your Telekinetic Ability and at that same second.

The author is the founder of the three fundamentals of telekinesis, the three fundamentals of force, the sight spectrum theory,  $e=mc^2$  at the mental plane, the mental plane laws, and countless telekinesis definitions.

A telekinesis document is rare to find

You may have noticed that a telekinesis document (eg, book, e-book, manual, ect.) is rare to find. Within the time of writing this document, the author searched for telekinesis documents to use for references. Unfortunately, no good reference could be found.

ESP documents tend to have telekinesis information. However, most of those documents only contain few pages of telekinesis information. There was not enough information in those documents to be used as reference. Furthermore, the information inside of those documents is not in reference to learning telekinesis.

About the editions

All of the Unleash Your Telekinetic Ability editions are complete. The word, "complete", in this case, refers to a normal size document. Yet, from the author's prospective, such a topic can never be fully complete.

The first two editions of the Unleash Your Telekinetic Ability can each serve as a standalone document. You only need to read one of the first two editions to learn telekinesis.

This edition is the author's laws about how the mental plane function. The third edition can be used as reference material for the first two editions.

In the "Thee Fundamentals" edition of the Unleash Your Telekinetic Ability, the author briefly explains many areas of ESP, such as, aura, focus, energy, force, and so on and so forth. This document does not assume that you already have a great amount of knowledge in ESP. The author will not explore any of those areas of ESP in depth, as you just want to learn telekinesis. The goal of that edition will be to Unleash Your Telekinetic Ability at the fundamentals of telekinesis.

In the "Sight Spectrum Theory" edition of the Unleash Your Telekinetic Ability, you will learn telekinesis from the analytical level of thought. You will discover that the result of telekinesis is  $e=mc^2$  at the mental plane. Once you literally understand telekinesis at this level of knowledge, you will be a strong telekinetic.

You may be an analytical thinker. You may want proof to some degree about why telekinesis exists. You may even want to know everything about literally how telekinesis is utilized. Nevertheless, for the analytical thinker, such a topic would need to thoroughly explain the concept of force, the workings of energy, brain, hemispheres, brainwaves, alpha, beta, emotions, thoughts, mental plane, physical plane, atoms, electrons, sight, mind's eye, aura, chakras, focus, and so on and so forth.

From the author's prospective, writing telekinesis for the analytical thinker is very important. Yet, such a telekinesis document may take over ten years to write.

The concept of force can be written in its own document. The history of force can also be a large topic. The author needs to decide how much information is truly relevant for the understanding of telekinesis. Nevertheless, edition two is a complete document and contains a large amount of pictures that illustrate the concept of telekinesis.

One day, the author will make a special edition. All three of his telekinesis documents will be included as one big document, and with lots more telekinesis information.

Introduction

Mental Plane Laws

Law 1

The mental plane is E in  $E=Mc^2$

Law 2

The mental plain exists as a transition layer of the brain.

Law 3

The mental plane is a transition layer of two virtual magnets not in force. The physical location of the first magnet starts from the tip of the front part of the brain to temple-to-temple. The second magnet is physically located from tip of the back of the brain to temple-to-temple.

Law 4

With reference to the brain, the border of the two mental plane magnets refers to the location of crown chakras and refers to the border of alpha/beta, consciousness/sub-consciousness, positive/negative PSI energy, and the positive/negative sight spectrum.

Law 5

The mental plain exists as a transition layer when referred to by another plane.

Law 6

The mental plain and the mind are literally the same.

Law 7

The brain and the mind are interconnected and only function with dependence of each other.

Law 8

The mental plane is composed of energy without force.

Law 9

The mental plane energy is composed of thought and emotion.

Law 10

Emotions are converted into PSI energy by the crown chakra.

Law 11

Negative PSI energy unbalances the crown chakra in the form of physical tension

Law 12

Focus refers to no thought loudness inside the mind.

Law 13

PSI energy can only influence matter embodied with energy.

Law 14

PSI energy can only move matter embodied with negative (workable) energy.

Law 15

Positive PSI energy will calm matter if the crown chakra is cleansed of negative PSI energy.

Law 16

Positive PSI energy will move matter if the crown chakra is clogged of negative PSI energy.

Law 17

The level of tension associated with PSI energy reflects the emotional level of determination.

Law 18

Negative PSI energy can only be produced at the subconscious level of the mind.

Law 19

An object is influenced from the desired emotion for change at any level of determination.

Law 20

PSI energy is sent to the physical location of the will.

Law 21

Positive and negative energy can only exist in force.
