The Magic Mirror

The Magic Mirror

by Aurora

As children, we had no problem believing in fairy tales.
That someday our handsome prince or princess would come.
We'd live in abundance and happiness...ever after.
As an adult, we've grown to believe that fairy tale endings aren't real.

But what if they ARE possible, after all...

The Magic Mirror into a Psychic World

How many of you remember “Snow White and the Seven Dwarves”? In the fairy tale “Snow White” the wicked stepmother has a room where she goes when she wants to be alone to work her magic. She was always consulting with her “magic mirror.”

As children we learned the chant “Mirror, mirror on the wall, who is the fairest of them all?” from the Disney movie.

As children we had no problem believing that the “magic mirror” was really a window into the future, but as we got older we let go of that possibility. Without actually being told, we came to the conclusion that nothing about fairy tales is real.

How could any of it be real?
Evil witches and poison apples and tiny men that work in the gold mines?
What nonsense, right?

Well, I have some wonderful news for you – magic mirrors do exist and I can not only teach you how to make one, but I can help you learn how to use it to peer directly into the psychic world.

This is not a fairy tale.
The Magic Mirror Spell has been used for centuries by wise men and women who knew the power of this one simple tool.

It's an Ancient Secret

Since ancient times, tucked away in their secret worlds using the simple elements of water, ink and time, many prophets, wizards and other truth seeking individuals turned to the magic mirror to see the future.

Not just to predict what will happen but to “know” what will happen – and in many cases to find out the truth about something that already happened but with details previously unknown.

With a few simple items you can make your own Magic Mirror. It is always best to make your own ceremonial, spell-creation tools. They are personal to you and when you look upon them and touch them they retain your energy and respond to you in a more focused, powerful way.

For your Spell, gather these ingredients:

- A bowl. It can be made of glass, pottery or plastic. Any kind of bowl is okay. Just remember, the more natural your materials, the better.
- Clean water. Enough to fill the bowl.
- Black ink. Washable black ink. About an ounce for a dinner table side dish sized bowl. More if your bowl is larger.
- A candle. Only one candle is needed for this spell.
- A low table. A coffee table is good or any table will do, really. It's just more powerful when you're closest to the earth.

How to Create Your Magic Mirror

Choose the correct bowl. Select carefully, as your bowl should be one that is not too large or too small and is wide at its uppermost rim. Select a bowl that is particularly beautiful – or perhaps one that has special meaning to you. This is important and will make the experience even more intense.

Add clean, fresh water to the bowl nearly up to the brim. It is important to use clean water that has not been used for any other purpose since that could pollute your visions and therefore your results would be not be accurate.

Take the bowl to a private area. This area needs to be one where you usually cast your circle, if you're accustomed to casting spells. It is important that you will not be interrupted or distracted in any way. Set the mood with one candle and then eliminate all other light sources. It should be very dark with just enough light to barely see your hands. You will also need an ounce of washable black ink.

Seat yourself at a low table with the bowl of water and ink in front of you. If you can, sit upon the ground or floor. Wicca believes that our power comes from Nature, so always stay as close as possible to Nature when performing spells. Place the bowl in front of you and at an angle so you can comfortably peer into its water.

To the water, you will add the ounce of washable black ink. Notice how the ink swirls in the bowl and obscures the clarity of the water. The magic is starting already. Notice that you will begin to feel the mysterious power forming within the waters almost immediately, but hold on! There's more.

Relax, take a few deep breaths and slowly peer into the blackness of the water.

In time, you will begin to notice a cloudiness or mist forming over the bowl. While it may be difficult to see at first, you will clearly begin to view scenes from another time and place. You may recognize them or you may not. Whether the images in the water are something you recognize or not, that is okay.

Now is the Time to Begin Your Work

You must now begin to direct your Magic Mirror show you the things you wish to know about. So without taking your eyes from the bowl, begin to chant slowly and softly these simple words...

“Mirror, mirror, cry for me”

“Mirror, mirror, let me see”

“As I will, so mote it be”

When the mirror is ready, it will reveal its secrets to you.

These may be secrets you have waited a long time to find or they may be things that are confusing or upsetting to you. If they are upsetting, command a favorable ending! Then visualize it. Know it is possible and the Universe is ready to provide it for you. Remember, you have the power to end the visions any time you want.

Often the visions you see will answer troubling questions for you or the person you are asking about. It takes some experience to interpret these prophetic scenes correctly.

The more you practice, the more accurate and powerful you will become in creating and attracting your perfect, rewarding fairy tale life!

Blessed Be,

Aurora
